

Economic Opportunities - Office

The Lake Norman area is a growing market for office development. Corporate and regional headquarters and back office operations are quickly tapping into the region's abundant workforce.

Major office employers include the headquarters of Lowes, a Fortune 500 company, General Electric, Ingersoll-Rand, Computer Associates, Americredit and Wireway/Husky Corporation.

In addition, several international companies, such as Blum Inc., have established their North American headquarters and manufacturing plants in the area. Blum, an Austrian company, started with a distribution center near the lake and later added a manufacturing component. After numerous expansions, they decided to build a state-of-the-art headquarters facility. Now, Blum's national and international executives enjoy living in Charlotte and the Lake Norman region.

The relaxed executive lifestyle of Lake Norman and the urban amenities of downtown Charlotte only minutes away create the perfect environment for headquarters and office occupations. Join Us.
